High School Hosts College Day Fair

A College Day Fair will take place at Patch American High School forum May 20 from 1:30 to 3 p.m. and organizers are in need of some special community support. The purpose of the College Day Fair is to provide information to students about making good decisions when looking for a college and how to begin thinking about career planning. Fair organizers want students to become acquainted with various colleges; be introduced students to graduates of many different colleges; and enable career-planning discussions with successful professionals.

The concept of the College Day Fair is to establish a series of information tables at the school. Each table will be set up and operated by community volunteers. And that's where the community comes in! Volunteers are needed to represent their alma mater as only graduates can do. As a graduate, you can talk about your college's strong points and special offerings; discuss career preparation provided by your college; and acquire and provide promotional literature about your college. To volunteer and assist organizers with the fair or request additional information, contact Ana Smith at 07031-809-848 or e-mail (apwsmith@aol.com) or Bruce Engel at 0711-680-7223. Please request information from your school as soon as possible and let us know which school you will represent.
